AMJ’s website is limited to disseminating general information about its advisory services and access to additional investment-related information, publications, and links. Accordingly, the publication of AMJ’s website on the Internet should not be construed by any consumer and/or prospective client as AMJ’s solicitation to effect, or attempt to effect transactions in securities, or the rendering of personalized investment advice for compensation, over the Internet. Any subsequent, direct communication by AMJ with a prospective client shall be conducted by a representative that is either registered or qualifies for an exemption or exclusion from registration in the state where the prospective client resides. For information about the registration status of AMJ, please contact the SEC, FINRA, or the state securities regulators for those states in which AMJ maintains a filing. A copy of AMJ’s current written ADV Part 2A disclosure statement discussing AMJ’s business operations, service, and fees is available from AMJ upon written request.

Certain portions of AMJ’s website (i.e., newsletters, articles, commentaries, etc.) may contain a discussion of, and/or provide access to, AMJ’s (and those of other investment and non-investment professionals) positions and/or recommendations of a specific prior date. Due to various factors, including changing market conditions, such discussion may no longer reflect current position(s) and/or recommendations(s). Moreover, no client or prospective client should assume that any such discussion serves as the receipt of, or a substitute for, personalized advice from AMJ, or from any other investment professional. AMJ is neither an attorney nor an accountant and no portion of the website content should be interpreted as legal, accounting or tax advice.
